Invitation to the 2025 Joint “11th SELF International Conference” and “Educational Research Association of Singapore (ERAS) International Conference”

Dear colleague:

It is with great pleasure that the organising committee is inviting you to the 2025 Joint “11th SELF International Conference” and the “ERAS International Conference” from the 18th to 21st November 2025 in Singapore. The conference will be hosted by the Educational Research Association of Singapore (ERAS) and the International SELF Research Centre.

The biennial SELF International Conference series commenced by Professors Herb Marsh, Dennis McInerney, and Rhonda Craven in the Blue Mountains in Sydney. It is now entering its third decade as an international event, which has gained greater visibility in the field of SELF research. It provides a unique forum to present and discuss cutting-edge research on self theory, measurement, research, and practice. The International Global SELF Research Centre is a virtual network with more than 700 members and satellite research centres at leading universities around the world. Its members include many of the world’s leading self and identity researchers.
